

Won't Be Any Berlin Trouble, Says Khrushchev

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev says there won't be any trouble in Berlin whatever length and course forthcoming international talks may take.

He made the remarks to a group of visiting West German Socialist editors in Moscow. The interview was carried in several German and Austrian newspapers today.

Khrushchev reiterated, however, that if no agreement on a German peace treaty were reached, the Soviet Union would go ahead and sign a separate one with East Germany.

Then, said Khrushchev, the Allied occupation of West Berlin would come to an end and control over Western access routes to Berlin must be exercised by East Germans.

"It was Khrushchev's warning that the Soviets would take control rights over Allied communications with Berlin that brought on the German crisis and led to the calling of an East-West foreign ministers conference in Geneva to start next Monday.

Khrushchev said the problem of a European security system should not be linked with a peace treaty for Germany. This was an apparent rejection of a package plan for solving European problems that the West has ready to present at Geneva.

He said that a German peace treaty was the top issue for the present.

He said the Soviet Union was agreeable to the withdrawal of all foreign troops from the East and West Germany. And, if the NATO members withdrew their forces behind the boundaries of their own countries, then said Khrushchev, the Soviet Union would withdraw its forces from Hungary and Poland.

Finally, the Soviet leader told the editors that the German question was a problem of war or peace.

Cabot in Line as Ambassador to Brazil

WASHINGTON (AP) — John M. Cabot, a career foreign service officer, reportedly is in line to be ambassador to Brazil, the job John Cabot Luce quit three days after the Senate confirmed her.

Mrs. Luce won Senate confirmation last week in spite of a bitter fight against her nomination by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore). But she could not resist a parting shot that her troubles began when Morse was "kicked in the head by a horse."

That brought a new uproar in the Senate and on Friday she resigned, saying Morse would continue to harass her in the ambassadorship.

There has been considerable feeling in the Senate that the job should go to a career State Department officer. Tuesday night an authoritative source reported that President Eisenhower will submit Cabot's name in the next few days.

Cabot, 57, now is ambassador to Colombia, and has had long Latin American experience as well as high posts in other parts of the world.

His foreign service career began in 1926.

Kills Girl by Stabbing Her 48 Times

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Police said today a muscular eighth-grade honor student stabbed and killed one girl and seriously wounded another because they resisted his advances.

Officers said Edwin A. Herty, 13, lured the two girls into some woods.

The dead girl was identified as Cathy Fehler, 12, Judy Guillot, 11, was treated for stab wounds of the back, lacerations of the neck and cuts on the arms and face.

The dead girl had been stabbed about 48 times, officers said. The coroner's office said she had been raped. A pocket knife was found near the scene.

Police quoted the boy as saying he thought both girls were dead when he left the scene and returned home. He was taken to a boy's home "for delinquency by reason of murder and attempted murder."

All three were white. The wounded child, when Herty, wearing a blood-spattered T-shirt, was brought before her in the hospital, said "That's him. All I want to know is why he did it."

Herty, about 5-9 and 170 pounds, appeared exceptionally calm. Judy refused to answer the pleas of her mother, Juanita Guillot Struber, to tell her what happened.

"Mother, I don't want to discuss it. I just don't want to discuss it with anyone—not even you. It's too horrible."

Herty was turned over to juvenile authorities to be held for delinquency by reason of murder and attempted murder.

A friend of the boy's family described him as an honor student and a Boy Scout.

Steel Industry Considering a Mutual Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief negotiator for the steel industry said today the industry is considering a mutual assistance plan to share profits if one or more companies are shut down by a strike instead of the entire industry being struck.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for U.S. Steel Corp. and the steel industry, told newspaper steel producers are considering a mutual aid strike plan similar to one adopted last fall by major airlines when faced with a rash of separate strikes.

Cooper emphasized that the industry might now be concentrating on reaching a new control agreement before present pacts expire June 30.

David J. McDonnell, union president, also stressed in a joint news conference with Cooper that the union too is not considering any strike at the moment, either piecemeal or industrywide.

"We're not a strike-happy union," McDonnell said. "We want to reach an amicable agreement right here in the Roosevelt Hotel before June 30."

By NORMAN WALKER
NEW YORK (AP) — Steel-labor contract negotiations centered today on a discussion of industry claims by the U.S. Steel Corp. that rising age levels are pricing American steel out of the market in competition with foreign steel.

Seven other steel companies began formal contract talks with the United Steelworkers Union. One more bargaining session still Thursday to make an even dozen sets of negotiations—all in the Roosevelt Hotel.

Present contracts expire June 30 when an industrywide strike could occur, although both union and management negotiators pledged an all-out drive to reach a peace pact before then.

In a key bargaining session between the union and U.S. Steel, the subject was foreign competition.

This has been minimized by the union but the industry said.

Aided by favorable investment conditions abroad, modernized and expanded steel plants, and a wide advantage in wage costs, foreign steel producers have recently demonstrated their new ability to compete with American producers — not only for world markets but also for the U.S. market.

The industry said the "only important effective solution is less disparity between the labor costs of steel production in the United States and abroad."

The union's response is that present inroads of foreign steel is only temporary and sharply rising productivity of the American industry will keep it favorably competitive.

The dozen negotiating sessions are expected to boil down to industrywide talks represented by four-man teams from the union and industry.

William C. Caples, vice president of Inland Steel, which has its main producing facilities in the Chicago area, proposed a one year freeze on present wages averaging $3 an hour.

Caples said "the general good of all concerned would be served best if the status quo was maintained for a year." But similar proposals by other steel companies have been rejected by steelworkers President David J. McDonnell.

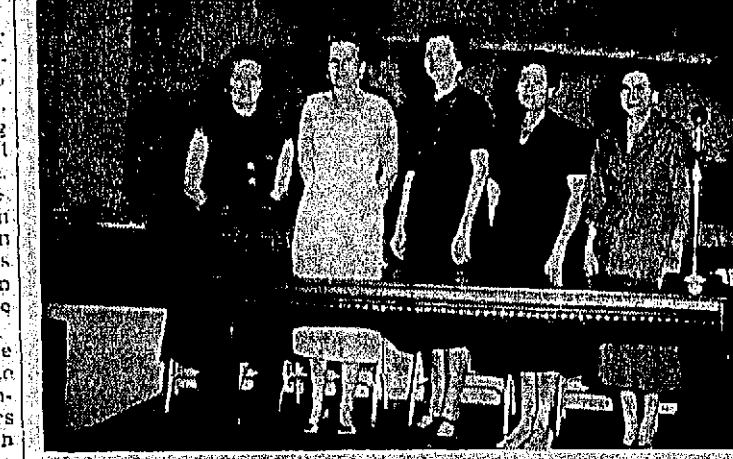

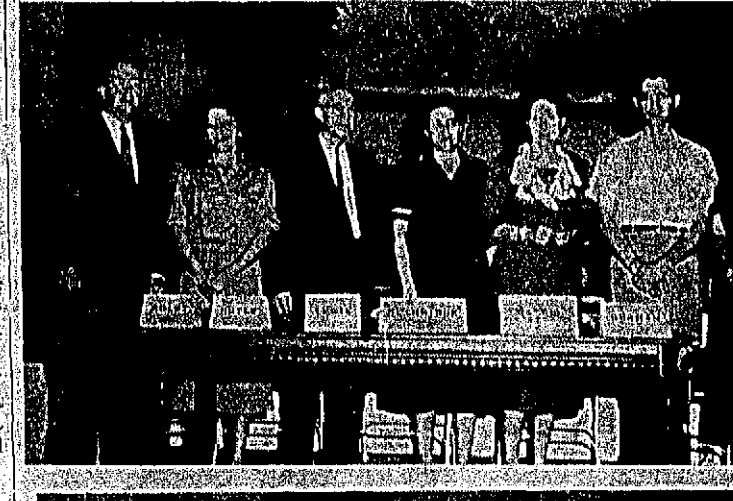

Caples said in a statement U.S. steelworkers are "envied by workers all over the world, including those of other industries of the United States." He said they enjoy high wages and security.

Secrecy Hangs Over Parker Lynch Case

POPLARVILLE, Miss. (AP) — A mantle of secrecy hung over the Mack Charles Parker case today as officers continued to look for clues that might lead to the lynching mob that shot the 23-year-old Negro truck driver to death.

A six-man coroner's jury ruled Tuesday that two bullet wounds killed Parker. He was awaiting trial on a charge of raping a pregnant white woman when a band of eight or 10 masked men kidnapped him from an unguarded jail here April 25.

No bullets were in the body when an FBI agent and a highway patrolman pulled it from the Pearl River near Bogalusa, La., Monday. But FBI Agent Joseph Myers told the jury there were two holes in the body, one in the side and the other near the breastbone.

Two hours after the inquest about 100 Negroes attended funeral services for Parker in a cemetery about one mile from his home outside Lumberton.

3 Moderates on Board Walk Out of Meeting

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Three unyielding segregationists Tuesday discarded a walkout by three moderate members and voted to fire 44 teachers in the city's integration-troubled school system.

Twenty-six of those whose contracts would not be renewed are employed at the closed Central High School, where a handful of Negroes attended under protection of federal troops in 1957-58.

The moderates Ted Lamb, Russell Malson and Everett Tucker Jr., left a board meeting called to consider teacher contracts after announcing they would vote to re-hire all or none of the system's 800 teachers. They said they would consider any action by the remaining members as illegal for lack of a quorum.

Lamb later said Tuesday's decisions would be challenged in court. Lamb said the vote had adopted the "all or none" attitude because they feared a purge by the segregationists. He said they wanted to strip the system of teachers so none would be available to operate the city's public schools. High schools and federal courts ordered them re-opened on an integrated basis.

Among those to be fired are the top officials at Central—Principal J. W. Matthews and Vice Principals J. O. Powell and Miss Elizabeth Hucksby. Gov. Orval Faubus, who shut the high school against integration Sept. 12, has criticized those three for "showing favoritism to Negro students" while Central was integrated.

Also on the list were L. M. Christopher, principal of the Horace Mann School for Negroes, and principals of several elementary and junior high schools. None of those has, however, been active in the integration dispute.

Tom H. Alford is former state education commissioner and now is principal of Jacksonville High School near Little Rock.

J. O. Powell and four others of those dismissed have refused to sign the affidavits required by Act 10 of 1958, which says that teachers must swear to their organizational affiliations and contributions for a five-year period.

Teachers' dues were paid by Mrs. Mary Gaines, an instructor at Dunbar (Negro) Junior High School.

It was disclosed after an early March fire which killed 23 inmates of the Negro Boys Industrial School at Wrightsville that Mrs. Gaines was on the payroll of both the reformatory and the local school.

She is the wife of L. R. Gaines, who was the training school superintendent at the time of the fire.

Both husband and wife have since been dismissed from the training school staff.

McKinley, Rowland and Lister said they would meet again at 3 p. m. today. McKinley said he did not know what would be taken up. The dissenters said they would not attend the session.

Group Offers to Aid Contribution Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Women's Emergency Committee to Open Our Schools has offered in reply to a city official's demand to help run down names of contributors to the committee.

City Manager Board member Letcher L. Langford had expressed dissatisfaction with information the group sent to him under Little Rock's "Bennett Ordinance." The committee said then that no detailed information on contributors was available because many were anonymous.

But yesterday the group said in a letter to Langford it was "calling publicly upon all persons who have contributed in any way to this committee, to convey their wishes and the amount of their contributions, directly to you, either by telephone or mail."

Non-profit organizations are required under the Bennett Ordinance to furnish city officials, upon demand, information on members, officers and contributions.

The committee was set up after Little Rock's four high schools were closed to avoid integration.

Hurling Staff Has Braves in First Again

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Milwaukee's two-edged sword — a pitching staff of quality and quantity — has pushed the Braves into first place once more in their revolving-door battle with the San Francisco Giants for the National League lead.

Carl Willey, one of the Braves' big five with Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Bob Rush and Joey Jay, was locked in a 2-2 tie after eight innings of dueling Tuesday night with Don Drysdale of Los Angeles. Then Manager Fred Haney went

Dykes Appears to Have Detroit in a Turnabout

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is it Jimmy Dykes' hot hand that has Detroit on the rebound in the American League, or is this just another of the Tigers' turnabouts for a new manager?

The rotund, cigar-smoking Dykes was plucked off the Pittsburgh coaching staff in the National League by Detroit and replaced Bill Norman as manager Sunday. The last place Tigers won but 2 of 17 games and were 10 1/2 games away from first.

Dykes moved fast. He pulled Charlie Maxwell off the bench and put him into the outfield. He made a starting pitcher of Don Mossi. Result: The Tigers won as many in one day under Dykes as they had in almost a month under Norman, sweeping a doubleheader from New York.

Dykes' next move was to bench third baseman Eddie Yost in favor of Ted Lepcio, acquired just last Saturday from Boston. Result: Lepcio hit his first home run of the year, a grand slam against his late mates that hoisted the Tigers to their third straight victory under Dykes with an 8-3 victory over the Red Sox Tuesday night.

Despite the victory, the Tigers are last still 9 1/2 games behind first place Cleveland. The Indians first rolling with a 9-1 breeze over Baltimore. Washington gained a virtual tie for second with Baltimore and Chicago by beating the White Sox 8-3. Kansas City slipped to fifth as the seventh-place Yankees added their losing string at five with a 3-2, 10-inning victory over the Athletics.

In the National League, Milwaukee reclaimed first place, beating gled home the tying run in the seventh off Drysdale, who gave 10 hits in his 11 frames, striking out nine.

Newcombe (1-3) gave up five hits and rode in on Frank Robinson's three-run homer in the fifth off Sam Jones (2-4).

The Cubs shelled winless Bob Friend for his fifth defeat at Pittsburgh while Glen Hobbie (3-2) fanned seven and held the Cubs to six hits. Rookie George Altman's third homer, a solo shot in the sixth, was the clincher.

The Phillies collected half of their dozen hits in the big ninth, they scored the tying run against losing reliever Larry Jackson (0-4) on a bases-loaded walk, then put it away on Ed Bouchee's single.

It was the eighth one-run deal for the last-place Cards, who have lost six games in the final inning

Fern Lindstrom was building a fire in her kitchen stove when she heard movement outside. Her first thought was that Empire riders were paying her another visit. Listening intently she decided there was only one horse. With intuitive certainty she opened the door and called, "Jim!"

His voice, wholly familiar as he said politely, "I'll feed the stock for you, ma'am," and then added, "If you'll spare me a bit of breakfast."

"Only if you split some wood afterward," Fern bargained, hugely pleased. She went inside, removed a stove lid and placed the coffee pot directly over crackling flames. A man needed coffee first thing on so cold a morning.

Presently, with Furlong sitting in the lamplit kitchen while she worked at the stove, Fern said, "You were right about me having visitors. Cleo Veto and Farley Breen arrived the next day."

"How was it?"

"Well, we had words. They looked around, seeing so many horse tracks, and Veto told Breen to search the house, but when Breen tried to, I threw hot water at him — tokettle and all."

She laughed, adding, "I acted as if it was an insult for them to think you were in my house."

"I see they returned your team and wagon."

"Yes, I told Veto that if it was not back within 24 hours I would lodge a claim of theft against Empire."

Relaxed and enjoying the hot coffee Fern had served him, Furlong observed the frank pleasure she revealed. This, he supposed, must be a lonely place for a woman, especially now that Mace Gillum wasn't calling on her.

With something close to envy nagging at him now, Furlong said, "Mace asked me to give you his regards."

"How is he?"

"Just fine."

"And Mister Fyfe?"

"Whiskered up like a bull but falo."

"It occurred to Furlong that he hadn't shaved recently; running

(too) Why are they willing to side me?"

"Well, because I am. And because Empire is like it is."

Three more guns. This much additional help could mean the difference between winning and losing. But he revealed no sign of eagerness when he said,

"There's one condition, Lin, regardless of who orders to join this deal. It's going to be an organized night. That means taking orders."

"You giving the orders?"

Furlong nodded.

"Then we'll take 'em," Gordon assured. "We like the way you stood up to Veto and his headquarters crew."

Furlong asked, "You know where Dos Mesas Pass is?" and when Gordon nodded, Furlong told him how to reach the new camp south of the Rio Felice without crossing Empire range.

"We'll be there in about three days," Gordon promised. "Four at the most."

More Claims in Boys School Fire

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two claims totaling $75,000 were filed with the state Claims Commission yesterday by parents of two boys who died in a March 5 dormitory fire at the Arkansas Negro Boys Industrial School.

Mrs. Lucy Dell Tolston Jr. of Wilmet asked $50,000 in the death of her son, Edward Tolston Jr., 15. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnes of Lake Village asked $25,000 for the death of Frank Barnes, 14.

The boys were among 21 victims of the fire.

Twenty-one claims, involving 10 deaths, have been filed so far and H.M. Friday, claims auditor, said another would be filed today. The claims total $570,000.

The Claims Commission has set a meeting Thursday with attorneys to set up a hearing on the claims.
